Date :- 16-10-2019

Report of the Event

October 16, 2019: On the occasion of “Women Farmers Day” (Mahila Kisan Diwas), a talk was organized by WEC in association with IQAC. The successful and progressive female farmer of Karnataka Smt. Kavitha Mishra addressed the students and faculty. Smt. Kavitha Mishra, a computer engineer turned sandalwood cultivator. She advised, don't do free farming; earn money for everything you plant. She shared, I cleaned the land and thought I would do some cultivation, but didn't have much hope. With the money I received from selling my gold, I learned about the process of starting cultivation with the help of a few experts in the state, I learned the lay of the land and started growing fruits. With the help of workers she made organic fertilizer with cow urine and sheep dung and never used chemical fertilizers. She has been lauded for her environmental friendly ways, as well as for empowering poor farmers of the region. The talk witnessed and inspired the students and teachers as well as non-teaching staff.

Report of the Event

International Women's Day was celebrated in the college by WEC in association with IQAC. In this regard A Marathon was arranged with a theme- Respect and protect our elders and senior citizens. Additional DC of Shivamogga Smt. Anuradha and Smt. Bharathi Anilkumar Inspector, Traffic Police Shivamogga International Power lifter and Ekalavya Award Winner inaugurated and participated in the marathon. In her address Smt. Anuradha expressed deep concern about elders in old age homes and insisted for caring our parents and elders with love and respect. About 200 girl students and college faculty participated in the Marathon run. In the evening a visit to "Jeevana Sanje" vruddashram an old age home was arranged and students and staff spent memorable moments with elders. This program provided a platform for girl students to interact with elders & veterans in the old age home. Students came to know about the feelings and mental stress of elders staying away from their family members. This Event created awareness in students and staff about the need of caring, loving and protecting our elders and parents. Though it's a one-day programme, the message will be carried for the lifetime.

Report of the Event

March 20, 2024: International Women's Day "Salute to a proud woman" "was celebrated in the college by WEC in association with IQAC.

In this regard, a talk and felicitation programme "Salute to a proud woman" was arranged by inviting Dr. Prema G.K. Lecturer in Kannada, Sahyadri Arts College, Shivamogga. Savithribai Phule Awardee and Deccan Herald Change Makers-2024 awardee as chief guest. She addressed our students. While speaking she said, our community is bound by some blind belief and rituals, which dictate our lives from birth to death. The status of women in India has been subject to many changes over the span of recorded Indian history. With women increasingly becoming independent economically, men are being forced to take up new responsibilities, which are considered "women's work". The economic situation and basic necessity have forced both men and women to reexamine traditional, existing social situations.

In her talk, she explained about her effort to bring social transformation in her tribal community. A rational awareness and change in mindset is possible only through good education. Women should be employed and realize their own power. She surpassed various challenges and limitations to become an achiever.

The talk witnessed and inspired the students and teachers as well as non-teaching staff.
